

As a property owner in DC, 6-year resident of the city, and individual who works downtown, I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city. They are a welcome addition to the DC dining scene.

Thank you,
Kimberly Wynn

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers. I regularly visit the Pizza truck at Farragut Square on Fridays and have also enjoyed other trucks in town. They provide a quality alternative to the daily options available near work.

Please work to ensure the safety of the food served, however do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,

Scott Payne
644 Morton Pl NE
Washington, DC 20002

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,

Jeremy Huth

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

These food trucks bring something new and exciting to the city!

Thank you,

Jon Rojas

As a DC resident, I am asking you to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the growing number of diverse businesses providing mobile vending to our city.

Thank you,

Rob Parrish

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,

Laura Rotondo

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,
Tim Miller

As a DC resident, I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Having access to a variety of food trucks has been one of the best improvements I've seen to life in the District over the past 5 years that I've lived here. Since I work in an area with few lunch options, the fact that food trucks can come near me is a huge plus during my day.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city. Our economy is hurting right now, so if anything, we need to be encouraging the growth of small businesses, like mobile food trucks.

Thank you,

Lauren Schapker

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,

Mike Zabko

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,
Jeff Christoff

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,
Katie Edson

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,
Katie Austen

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers. Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks. Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

The mobile vendors and food trucks are utilized heavily by locals and visitors. Not allowing them to stay would be a huge detriment to revenue in the city and would eliminate access to fast, cheap options of purchasing souvenirs and food when visiting the nation's capital. D.C., as well as other cities, are not cities without such these vendors!

Thank you,
Sagina Wahi
(Native of the DC Metropolitan Area)

I'm a food truck customer and DC resident (live in Tenleytown, work in Chinatown) writing in support of expanded food truck service. I enjoy the convenience and added variety that food trucks provide to my daily dining options. I still shop at "brick and mortar" restaurants during the week, but visit food trucks when they are in the neighborhood. The added competition that food trucks provide is great, and should be supported with the proposed changes to Title 24, Chapter 5.

Quite honestly, if food trucks weren't in my work neighborhood, I would bring lunch, not shop at a "brick and mortar" dining establishment. Please help to support the vibrant food truck movement with passage of Title 24 Chapter 5.

Best Regards,
Andrew Lewis

Please keep the DC foodtruck scene vibrant. I regularly patronize a variety of trucks in the downtown area near my workplace as well as my local fixed location eateries. Please do not introduce or vote for legislation that would restrict the growth or diversity of these mobile food trucks and other small businesses in the city.

Thanks,

Amanda Lenhart
DC resident, Ward 4

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,

Emily Andrews
Ward 6 DC resident

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Mobile vending is great for young fresh out of college students like me, it saves us money and time.

Thank you,
Kadijah E.

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers. The trucks are a great indication of a vibrant community encouraging small-business entrepreneurs.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,

Sarah Z. Kish

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,

Vida Russell
DC resident

I am a DC resident of Ward One writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,

Matthew Quirk
2101 New Hampshire Ave NW
Washington DC 20009

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,

Katharine Kelly

Yes on title 24. Help the working man. They do provide a service to the people in the district

Jim MacDonald

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,

Registered Voter
Bob Linneman

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,

Steve Smith

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers. I live and work in DC and I rely on the food trucks for meals and entertainment (yes, it's fun to chase trucks, especially when they have cupcakes!).

Please do not allow the introduction of discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,

Bennett Starnes
Washington, DC

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Washington DC is one of the most diverse cities in the country and yet it falls far behind other major cities (New York, Los Angeles, Portland, etc) in introducing mobile vendors and food trucks. The CEO for the Center for Culinary Development has said that "Street food is changing the conversation around food by creating new, vibrant and diverse communities socially connected by a shared interest in a new way of eating.

At various turns it is highbrow meets lowbrow, local and eco-friendly, socially conscious and globally diverse. Street foods provide another avenue for consumers to explore new flavor adventures at an accessible value." Additionally, by allowing mobile vendors to stay in DC, it ensures a greater competition for quality food for DC consumers, residents and tourists.

Thank you,

Melissa Ho

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,

Charlene Wang

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,
Huy Le

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,

Christian Tribastone

I am a resident of Ward 6 - Capitol Hill and am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers. Not that NYC is something we are trying to create or follow- but if it is working there, why would we discourage small incubator businesses like this here?

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks. Have you seen how many interesting food options are popping up?

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city. Let's support small businesses and create new opportunities for people willing to take the risk to start them.

Thank you,

Scott Robertson
139 11th St SE
Washington DC 20003

I live and work in District, and I support our food trucks. I work in a part of DC with very few restaurants and having the food trucks come by is a huge boon. I love having them in my neighborhood and anything you can do to encourage them is a plus for the residents of DC.

Thank you!
Michael Clawyer

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

It is very important to me to have choice and diversity in my food choices, and to impede the mobile vendors in any way would be a serious detriment to the selection and variety that people like me associate with living and working in DC. I want to support--not stifle--the spirit of entrepreneurship that these trucks represent and illustrate.

Please do not make any decisions that limit the mobile vendors' ability to serve willing customers like myself, who want to reward them for creatively meeting consumer needs as yet unserved by the existing brick-and-mortar establishments.

Thank you.

Ned Baker
3114 Wisconsin Avenue
Ward 3

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,

Brittany Kauss

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,

Charles Canter

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city. Let the market decide.

Thank you,
Ann-Marie Stewart

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

I've worked in downtown DC for over 25 years and the variety afforded by food trucks is a refreshing change from the hotdog stands. They offer a healthier choice of foods at a reasonable cost. They offer faster service than the over-priced restaurants in the area.

I only get 30 minutes for lunch and a salary that does not support the $9.00 sandwich, chips and beverage lunches that many local establishments offer. I'm not knocking them. They need to make a profit too, but not at the expense of good, honest competition.

It's time for DC to keep up with the times. Consumers are strapped for time, strapped for money and hungry, no pun intended, for decent affordable food.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,

Carol Wingfield
3210 Grace Street, NW
Washington, DC 20007

My lunch is my break from the workday. Getting a good lunch from a small business that is mobile is a asset to DC. I really enjoy talking to the vendors and supporting their work AND their food is original and very healthy and tasty.

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,

Scott Henry
1751 New Hampshire Ave
Washington, DC 20009

I am a DC resident, living at 1868 Columbia Rd NW in Adams Morgan.

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,

Josh Merin

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,
Meredith Sparks

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks. The advent of mobile food vendors beyond the hot dog stands and Good Humor carts is one of the most exciting trends to come to this city in years. And for those of us who work in area with few brick-and-mortar restaurants, having the dining options come to us helps us make the most of our short lunch breaks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,

Molly Garber

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,

Erica Johnson

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,
Carl Lee

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,
Kathy Sweeney-Hammond

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,
Katherine deProphetis

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,

Rachel Applegate

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,

Gabriel Chu

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC.

Food trucks are revolutionizing eating in America. Cities all over the country support the local economy and consumer choices by allowing food trucks and mobile vendors to sell their wares in the streets. It would be shameful if the Nation's Capital didn't support small business or, frankly, the food revolution—bringing high-quality food to citizens at reasonable prices.

I was born in D.C. and have lived here all my life.

Thank you,
Elisa Nader

I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

The food trucks are a great value to the community, and allow good food closer to where people want it. They also add to DC's vibrant food culture. Please support them!

Thank you,

Willa Brown
1413 P St NW

As a DC Resident, I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,
Jamie Nicholson

As a DC taxpayer and property owner, I am writing to support the current proposed DCRA regulation Title 24 Chapter 5 that will allow mobile vendors to stay in DC and continue offering more choices and value to consumers.

Please do not allow the introduction of any discriminatory language into these regulations that would limit mobile vendors or food trucks.

Please pass the regulations as written and protect the diverse, growing and small business vending options in the city.

Thank you,

Katherine Bedard
1514 17th St NW
Washington, DC 20036